Radical Shift in U.S. Viet Nam Policy

By SPENCER DAVIS
WASHINGTON (AP) — Qualified administration officials would like to see a brake put on speculation that a drastic shift in U.S. policy to greatly expand the war in South Viet Nam is likely to stem from the current review under way here.

This policy review, rather, is likely to rule out any massive air or sea assault against Hanoi, the capital of North Viet Nam, or against North Vietnamese military concentrations — actions that could be expected to evoke a Communist Chinese response, informed sources said.

Officials are sounding this cautionary note as Maxwell D. Taylor, U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam, heads for Washington and consultations with President Johnson and his top advisers.

These officials stress privately that whatever decision the President reaches, it likely will be far less dramatic than current speculation may have led the public to expect.

State Department officials said they read and approved in advance Taylor's views on the South Viet Nam war that appear currently in Life magazine. And, these officials declared, Taylor has not flatly advocated extending the war to North Viet Nam.

Taylor is regarded here as saying there are both pros and cons that must be considered before U.S. aircraft must be ordered to hit Communist supply lines in Laos and guerrilla training areas in North Viet Nam.

It was pointed out that Taylor (Continued on Page Three)

41 Whooping Cranes Sighted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Forty-one whooping cranes — a record number — have been sighted at the Arkansas National Wildlife Refuge in Texas, the Interior Department reported Tuesday night.

Among them are 10 young cranes, also a record number since the government started keeping its eye on the diminishing species.

The total of adult and young cranes is the highest since 38 birds were sighted in 1961-62.

Pecan Crop Is Short in Arkansas

A short crop of pecans is in prospect for Arkansas and the nation this year.

The total crop including both seedling and improved varieties is estimated at about four million pounds this year in Arkansas compared to eleven million pounds in 1963 and the last five years average of a little over five million pounds.

Unfavorable weather during pollination and the growing season in some places and the fact that trees produced a very large crop last year contributed to the smaller crop indicated in 1964.

About 125 million pounds of pecans will be produced in the nation in 1964 which is about one-third of last year's production.

Normally when the crop is short, the prices will be higher, but this year the situation may be somewhat different because there is a large carryover of the 1963 production in cold storage at this time.

Pecans provide Arkansas farmers with an average income of $1½ million each year. This crop is marketed in several different ways. Most pecans are sold to local buyers and these buyers in turn sell to pecan shelling firms in or outside of the state. Some growers sell through co-ops and some sell directly to shelling firms.

The potential for pecan production and marketing is increasing because of the additional uses of this product in various foods and because equipment for processing and storage has been developed and is in general use.

Governments Role Told to Hope Masons

W. S. Atkins spoke on "The Role of Government in a Society of Free Men" at the Past Masters Night held by Whitfield Masonic Lodge Tuesday night in the Masonic Hall. The local attorney told the assembled group of 70 that "America is facing a crisis today with freedom in retreat before big government."

He further stressed: "Our nation's prestige is due to individual efforts of men whose duty it is to protect and safeguard the security of our land. Masons are the type of responsible citizens who can and should preserve those rights through their individual efforts."

Following a delicious meal prepared by a committee of lodge members, Worshipful Master Wayne Bohannon welcomed the group and introduced the special guests. F. C. Crow then introduced the speaker of the evening, who based much of his timely message on material in the "New Age," a Masonic publication.

Some Killjoys Can't Stand Thought of Mankind Having Day Off From Usual Worries

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — There are always a few killjoys around on every holiday.

They can't stand the thought of mankind having an occasional day off from usual worries.

As Thanksgiving approaches, the cynics murmur, "The world's in a mess. What have I got to give thanks about? What has anybody?"

If you are one of these gloom spreaders, take heed. There's always something in life to be grateful for. Right now.

For example:

In a free country such as this, you have just as much right to feel glum as the other fellow does to feel happy. Nobody will arrest you for wearing a sour face.

Turkeys are not as large as ostriches. If they were, the problem of what to do with Thanksgiving dinner leftovers would be insuperable.

You don't have to face up to Santa Claus for another month, and you don't have to pay your Christmas bill until the first of the year.

The national elections are over, and you don't have to listen to political candidates point with pride and view with alarm.

The world is getting quieter. The Beatles appeared on two recent television network programs; both times they won less than top ratings.

Okay for Farm Machinery Training

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The federal government has approved training for 130 farm machinery operators in Lawrence, Randolph and Jackson counties, two state agencies said Monday.

An Area Redevelopment Act allocation of $65,986 will pay for the 12-week training and for subsistence benefits to those picked for the training. The allocation was announced by the state Education Department and the Employment Security Division.

The ESD said 59 operators would be trained in Lawrence County, 46 in Jackson and 25 in Randolph. The trainees will be picked from the unemployed.

ASC Voting Time Near Deadline

Voting time for ASC Committee to serve during the coming year is nearing and will be held from now through December 1, 1964. Cecil F. Guthrie of the Hempstead ASCS Office stated today. Ballots will be mailed to all eligible voters on record by November 20.

The person receiving the most votes will be elected community committee chairman and delegates to the county convention, Mr. Guthrie said. The persons receiving the second and third highest number of votes will be Vice-Chairman and regular member, respectively, of the community committee, and alternate delegates to the county convention.

Following the community elections, Mr. Guthrie continued, the chairman of the newly elected community committees will meet at the county convention to be held December 17, to elect the county committee for the coming year.

Second Escapee Is Recaptured

PAYETTE, Idaho (AP) — A second escapee from the Washington State Penitentiary was caught in Payette early today. Police Capt. Dan Walter identified him as Richard Eugene Loux, 26.

Captured Tuesday night as he abandoned a stolen car in Payette was Harold Thomas, 38, who was serving a life sentence for murder. Three others, including Loux, fled from the car on foot.

Walter said every exit to the city was covered as the search continued for the other two.

The four were part of a gang of seven who tunneled out of the penitentiary at Walla Walla Sunday night.

Witnessed Slaying of Missionary

BRUSSELS (AP) — A Belgian refugee from Stanleyville reported today he had witnessed the killing of American missionary Paul Carlson by Congolese rebels.

The refugee, Fernand Deprey, arrived in Brussels this morning with the first plane load of refugees from the former rebel capital in the northeast Congo.

"I was a prisoner in the Hotel Victory," Deprey said. "Carlson was in a group of about 150 who were forced to sit down in the street."

"When the rebels heard the paras (paratroopers) were on the way, they opened fire into the group and Carlson was shot down. Afterwards as we went to meet the Belgian troops I saw his body in the street. He had been shot through the head."

Deprey said he had known Carlson well while they were prisoners of the rebels.

"He was very cheerful and a great moral example," Deprey said.

Woman 80, Killed by a 4-Year-Old

MONESSEN, Pa. (AP) — Colina Renshaw, 80, was shot to death Tuesday by a gun held by her 4-year-old great-grandson.

Coroner Stephen D. Yoney said the boy, Layne Sander, picked up a .38-caliber pistol that had been lying on a nightstand in Mrs. Renshaw's bedroom for eight years.

Yoney said the boy told him he pointed the gun at Mrs. Renshaw, seated in a chair in her bedroom, and pulled the trigger twice. Nothing happened.

The child pulled the trigger, again and the gun discharged, striking Mrs. Renshaw in the chest, the coroner said.

Wirges Again Indicted at Morrilton

MORRILTON, Ark. (AP) — The Conway County Grand Jury made a second indictment of former newspaper publisher Gene Wirges Tuesday.

It charged that Wirges and three others conspired to have Sheriff Marlin Hawkins arrested on false charges.

The others are Chester Boyer who signed an affidavit against Hawkins earlier this year; and two justices of the peace—Leon Brents of Cleveland and Walter Savage of Plummerville. Brents and Savage issued affidavits against Hawkins.

Earlier this year the jury indicted Wirges charging that the slandered Hawkins in an Oct. 1 news conference in which he alleged that there had been irregularities in the conduct of the sheriff's office.

The jury cleared Hawkins of any misconducting in office.

The four indicted were served with warrants Tuesday and Circuit Judge Wiley Bean set the bond for each of them at $1,000. Brents paid his bond Tuesday.

The indictments were returned Oct. 26, the day the jury released an indictment of Everett A. Ham Jr., a top aide to Winthrop Rockefeller, who was running as a Republican candidate for governor then.

Ham was charged with perjury in the investigation that resulted in the slander indictment.

The new indictment says Wirges, Brents, Boyer and Savage "did wilfully, unlawfully and maliciously conspire, collude, contrive and intend to secure an indictment of Marlin Hawkins on one or more false criminal charges."

Brents swore out a warrant Oct. 14 for Hawkins' arrest after Boyer signed an affidavit alleging irregularities when he was arrested in 1958 on a charge of driving while intoxicated. Hawkins came before Brents (Continued on Page Two)

One of the Quints Dies in France

PARIS (AP) — One of the Sambre quintuplets died during the night, the Ministry of Public Health announced today.

Officials said the dead baby was the last born, Jean-Luc, who weighed 2 pounds 7 ounces at birth Monday.

The ministry said there had been "no important change" in the condition of the other two boys and two girls.

The babies were born to Mrs. Raymond Sambre, wife of a mailman in a Paris suburb.

The Health Ministry said Jean-Luc had been suffering from respiratory troubles which suddenly worsened Tuesday night. Three hours later a hemorrhage of the lungs developed and he died. News of the death was withheld until this morning.

The surviving babies were in incubators at the pediatric center of the Paris Faculty of Medicine. Doctors said their condition would remain precarious for at least 10 or 12 days.

Shipping to Cuba Is Decreasing

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Shipping to Cuba from Western countries is reported decreasing.

An anti-Castro organization that keeps check on movements of vessels to Cuban ports listed only 23 flying non-Communist flags in October as against 44 last month, 51 in August, and 70 in April 1963.

U.S. government pressure against such traffic was credited for the decline by the exile group. Revolutionary Unity Movement.

Move Seen to Promote Bonds for Highways

By BILL SIMMONS
Associated Press Writer

There have been indications this week that Arkansans will be asked to approve big bond issues to solve the state's road problem.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus made one of the indications and Rep. Marion Crank of Little River County made the other.

Faubus' came before the Arkansas Farm Bureau Federation on Monday when he discussed the rural road program he promised during his campaign for a sixth term.

The governor said the people of Arkansas would have a chance to pass on his program "in one of more of the ways the people have of doing these things."

Crank met with mayors of five cities Monday night in efforts to discover solutions to municipal problems, one of which is insufficient funds to maintain (Continued on Page Two)

Runaway Bus Leaves 26 Injured

MORRILTON, Ark. (AP) — Twenty-six men were injured Tuesday when a bus slipped out of gear, careened down a muddy road, hit a pile of pipe and wedged in a ditch about 10 miles north of here.

Twenty-four other men on the bus were not hurt. Four of the injured were hospitalized, and their injuries were described as not serious.

The men were being taken to work on Arkansas Louisiana Gas Company's project of laying a pipe line across North Arkansas.

Several lengths of pipe with 24-inch diameters jammed and the wheels and gasoline tank were torn off.

The ditch was four feet deep, through the bottom of the bus but too narrow for the bus to hit the bottom of it.

A bulldozer lowered an ambulance by cable down the steep road, where the injured men were picked up, and then the ambulance was pulled up the hill by the bulldozer.

Some of the injured were taken to a Morrilton hospital in cars.

One ambulance collided with a truck on a narrow bridge en route to the hospital, but no one was injured in the wreck, according to State Trooper Bill Mitchell.

He said the bus wreck occurred on Arkansas 95.

Those hospitalized where John David McMahan, 18, of El Dorado; Rodney Gene Hatridge, 23, of El Dorado; Elliott H. Channce, 61, of Heber Springs; and Warner Wilson 40, of Monticello.

200 Whites Still Missing in the Congo

By KENNETH L. WHITING

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — Belgian paratroops and Congolese soldiers searched today for some 200 whites still missing in the northern Congo.

More than 900 refugees have arrived here from the former rebel capital and another 500-600 awaited evacuation at Stanleyville Airport. Of the 63 Americans trapped in the rebel zone, 34 and the bodies of two murdered missionaries had arrived in Leopoldville.

Scattered fighting continued in Stanleyville, which fell Tuesday to Congolese troops and white mercenaries after the paratroops landed to rescue the European and American hostages threatened with death.

Several rebels and a Belgian paratroop sergeant were killed during the night in mop-up operations. Much of the skirmishing took place near the airport where the foreigners awaited evacuation to Leopoldville.

Premier Moise Tshombe canceled plans for a triumphant entry into Stanleyville today. "He may go tomorrow," an aide said.

Wounded evacuees were taken to hospitals in Leopoldville. The rebels killed at least 30 foreigners and wounded more than 50 in murderous attacks as the paratroops began landing.

"Other Europeans may be found dead in various parts of the city," a U.S. Embassy spokesman said.

Rebel chief Christophe Gbenye and other leaders of the Communist-backed "Congolese People's Republic" have disappeared.

The United States told Tshombe's central government that rebel leaders must be made to answer for the murder of two American missionaries, Dr. Paul Carlson and Phyllis Rine.

The rebels had threatened to kill all whites if the Congolese army attacked Stanleyville.

Dr. Carlson, 36, of Rolling Hills, Calif., was among 15 to 20 hostages shot down in Stanleyville's Lumumba Square minutes before the paratroops landed. Carlson had been under a rebel death sentence as an alleged spy.

Miss Rhine, 25, a missionary teacher from Mount Vernon, Ohio, also was slain by the insurgents.

Another missionary murdered was Hector Macmillan, a Canadian from Avonmore, Ont. His wife, the former Ione Reed of Pontiac, Mich., and their six sons escaped.

George Clay, 38, a South African correspondent for the National Broadcasting Co., was killed as he accompanied Congolese troops advancing on Stanleyville. Shot twice in the head, Clay died in the arms of Associated Press correspondent John Latz.

The U.S. consul in Stanleyville, Michael S. Hoyt, who had been in rebel custody since last summer, told a news conference that he and his four assistants were repeatedly beaten by their captors.

Annual Army, Navy Game Saturday

Associated Press Sports Writer
Have you made your date for New Year's night yet?

Texas and Alabama apparently have their all planned. The Longhorns have accepted an invitation to play in Miami's Orange Bowl with a national television audience and upwards of 72,000 on hand to watch the first major bowl game ever played at night. The Crimson Tide is expected to be there too.

Auburn and Texas A&M have nothing nearly as exciting in the works. A quiet evening at home would be more likely for the Tigers, who are 6-3 and the Aggies, struggling through a 1-8 season.

But with that old debble upset lurkin around every corner, you never know in college football. So don't count out the chance of major upsets Thursday when the Crimson Tide tackles Auburn and the Longhorns meet. A&O in games headlining the Thanksgiving Day menu.

Ralph Jordan, Auburn's coach, knows his club has nothing to lose and figures with a break here and there, his team can make it two straight over their cross-state rivals. "We are confident we can beat Alabama," Jordan said.

Fullback Tucker Fredrickson is the Tigers' big threat but Alabama's passing threat of Joe Namath and Steve Sloan make the Tide a topheavy favorite to win.

Texas, national champion a year ago, has lost just one game in nine starts and Texas A&M has won just once but these two clubs always put up a fierce struggle against each other.

Elsewhere, Tulsa's high-flying aerial duo of Jerry Rhome and Howard Twilley teams up for the last time before the home fans as the Hurricanes entertain Wichita.

In Saturday's top ames, Army and Navy clash for the 6th time, with 100,000 expected at Philadelphia's John F. Kennedy Stadium and Southern California, with a shot at a Rose Bowl berth, runs into Notre Dame and Heisman Trophy winner John Huarte at Los Angeles.

Michigan QB Named Back of the Week

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Bob Timberlake, University of Michigan quarterback, sparked the Wolverines to a 10-0 victory over Ohio State last Saturday, a victory that brought Michigan the Big Ten championship and an automatic spot in the Rose Bowl on Jan. 1.

The performance of the 21-year-old senior against the Buckeyes won him the Back of the Week award today from The Associated Press.

Timberlake passed 17 yards for one touchdown, booted the extra point and later kicked a 27-yard field goal to figure in all 10 of Michigan's points.

The 6-foot-4, 215-pounder from Franklin, Ohio, has led the Wolverines to eight victories in nine games. Their only loss was by one point to Purdue 21-20. He was recently named a scholar athlete at large by the National Football Foundation and on Tuesday finished fourth in the voting for the Heisman Trophy for the outstanding college player of 1964 with 361 points.

Allen McCune, West Virginia quarterback, was high up in the weekly voting by sports writers and broadcasters. He completed 13 of 17 passes for two touchdowns, including a 50-yarder in the last quarter for the winning TD in the Mountaineers' 28-27 upset of Sugar Bowl bound Syracuse.

"DEAR ABBY"

JUST WHISTLE!

By Abigail Van Buren

Dear Abby: My husband chases everything in skirts. Two months ago he asked me for a divorce and I wouldn't give it to him. We have eleven children from 16 years old down to 18 months old. If he goes to a lawyer he could never get a divorce because he has nothing on me. But I could divorce him on any grounds in the book because he has broken all the Ten Commandments and every City Ordinance and statute there is. Two weeks ago he just packed up and left. The kids miss him. He was a lousy husband but a good father. How long does a man usually stay away? I'm afraid he's broke and hungry. Should I try to locate him? I've got the money; besides, I guess I still love him.

A Glutton For Punishment
Dear Glutton: Just go outside and blow the dog whistle. If he's broke and hungry, he'll hear it and come home.

Dear Abby: I don't know what the shoe companies have against people with big feet, but I am getting very discouraged. I am a 15-year-old girl who wears a size 10 D shoe, and I can't find a decent-looking pair of shoes in my size anywhere in this town. I have to order my shoes from a catalogue, and the only styles they make in my size are for old ladies. Can you, or any of your readers, help me, Abby?

TEN D
Dear Ten: I'm probably putting my foot in it, but if I were in YOUR shoes, I'd hound the local shoe stores until they special-ordered the kind of shoes I wanted.

Dear Abby: I've been happily married for three months and this is the first time my husband has shown signs of having a violent temper. For a wedding gift, we got a "starter" set (service for four) of some expensive English dishes. I don't care for the pattern as it is much too fussy, so I use them for every day, hoping in time I'll break them so I won't have to look at them any more. My mother-in-law gave us a set of cheap dishes she got with coupons, which are very plain. I use them for company because it's service for 12.

I want to buy a good set of dishes but my husband can't understand why. He just paid $110 for a new gun (he has four guns) and I didn't say anything. We both work and pool our money. I'd rather have a happy husband than a new set of dishes, but I'd like to have both. How?

GLEND
Dear Glenda: If it won't put a strain on your budget, treat yourself to a new set of dishes. But do it cautiously. I don't recommend irritating a husband who has both a violent temper and five guns.

Dear Abby: I am a widow, getting on in years, and I am not physically able to get around in the crowds any more. I am also on a limited budget, and all this Christmas shopping is too much trouble and expense to me. I wrote to several of my friends and relatives and asked them please to discontinue giving me Christmas gifts for the above reasons. I am now receiving unpleasant answers to my letters, such as, "I don't give to get." Abby, I don't want to accept and not give in return. Was what I did so terrible?

KITTY

Dear Kitty: I think you were more considerate than most people to announce beforehand that you did not intend to give gifts. Ignore the replies. They Savae issued a warrant Oct. 19 for Hawkins' arrest after Howard Killough of Lamar signed an affidavit alleging an irregularity in his arrest in 1955 on a charge of driving while intoxicated.

Bean ordered Savage and Bents to appear before him Oct. 20 and he dismissed both warrants. Bean said the statute of limitations nullified the warrants and that justices of the peace did not have jurisdiction over the sheriff.

Florida State Lineman Gets New Honors

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Jack Shineholser, Associated Press Lineman of the Week, wanted to quit four years ago when Florida State hadn't shaken the tag of girls' school, wasn't winning, had never beaten archrival Florida and was playing in the second ranks of college football.

But after Saturday's 16-7 victory over Florida, a Gator Bowl berth, a spot in the AP's Top Ten, and Lineman of the Week honors, Shineholser said:

"I love it. This is what makes football good. You work for something and you get it."

Shineholser, 6-foot-1, 209-pound middle guard, broke through repeatedly to stop the ball carrier and harass the passer Saturday.

He got credit for six tackles, six assists and for forcing a fumble on the one-yard line that stopped Florida's first offensive threat and may have turned the tide.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Artificial artery segments — made from knitted filament dacron yarn — are thus far working satisfactorily in the surgical treatment of diseased arteries, a Texas surgeon said Monday.

Dr. Michael DeBakey of Houston, in a report to the second national conference on cardiovascular diseases, said:

"Clinical experience with dacron as a vascular replacement for various types of arteriosclerotic occlusive and aneurysmal disease is now sufficiently extensive to permit adequate evaluation."

WASHINGTON (AP) — The "economic failures" of communism have become so evident, says Secretary of State Dean Rusk, that even Soviet leaders "are talking more and more about incentives and larger private plots for farmers — and even about profits."

In a speech Monday before the American Institute for Free Labor Development, Rusk said that from 1950 to 1963 the Soviet Union increased its gross national product by about $113 billion, compared with Western Europe and Canada's $200 billion.

good streets.

During the discussion, Crank mentioned the possibility of the state establishing a matching fund with cities and counties for street and road construction.

In an interview with The Associated Press, Crank said Tuesday that a bond issue probably would be necessary for such a fund.

"I don't see any other way to get money," he said.

He said it would require $100 million to $150 million in bonds. Faubus evidently had not settled on a bond proposal as the means of financing a rural road construction program. He did not specify before the federation what his plans—if solidified—were.

Crank said the matching fund proposal will get considerable study, but its fate will depend on numerous factors, including the reaction of the people to the idea.

He said the mayors who met with the Legislative Council's Revenue and Taxation Committee Monday night were "enthused about" the matching fund idea.

"Such an incentive would help get things going," Crank said. He said there had not been enough time to assess the public attitude on such a matching fund and a means of financing it.

Hospital Money Is Delayed

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A Legislative Council discussion on whether to continue appropriating state money to the Arkansas Children's Hospital continued Monday.

A special subcommittee of the council told Jack Lynn, hospital board president, to present to the council an audit of the hospital's revenue.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States committed a record $1.19 billion to aid Latin America during the fiscal year ended last June 30, a government report said Monday.

Actual spending for the calendar year of 1963, the report said, amounted to $811.9 million.

People in the News

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Mary Markham Melchior, 40, television producer, has filed suit for a divorce from her husband of 6½ months, Lauritz Melchior.

Her suit, filed Monday in Santa Monica, Calif., charges the 74-year-old Wagnerian tenor with "extreme mental cruelty." She formerly was his secretary. They separated Nov. 6.

NEW YORK (AP) — Former Mayor William O'Dwyer of New York is in a hospital for treatment of a heart ailment.

O'Dwyer, 74, was reported in satisfactory condition at Beth Israel Hospital in New York City.

In 1950, after four years as mayor, O'Dwyer resigned to become ambassador to Mexico.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actor James Drury's wife, Crystall, has been granted a divorce in Los Angeles.

She testified Monday: "When a man doesn't want to be married to you, and you love him, that is enough to cause turmoil."

Drury, 30, and his wife, 36, were married in 1957. She was awarded custody of their two sons, aged 6 and 3, and $900 a month in child support and alimony.

Legislature Plans Procedure Meet

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The 15th Institute of Legislative Procedure will be held in the Senate Chamber of the state capitol Dec. 14-15.

Principal speakers at the event, designed to acquaint new members of the general assembly with legislative procedures, will be Gov. Orval E. Faubus and Dr. David W. Mullins, president of the University of Arkansas.

Procedural instructions will be given by Lt. Gov. Nathan Gordon, Sens. Morrell Gathright and Dan White and Reps. Sterling Cockrill Jr. and Harry Colay.

all sources of the hospital's revenue.

Last week, Perry County Rep. Paul Van Dalsem challenged the constitutionality of a state appropriation to a private agency, such as the hospital. The hospital has been getting $25,000 a year from the state and it is seeking $50,000 a year.

Wedding Vows Are Repeated

Mrs. Jack Lynwood McMahan

The Corinth Baptist Church, Bodcaw, was the setting for the candlelight wedding ceremony, uniting Miss Kathryn Dale May, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl May of Bodcaw, and Jack Lynwood McMahan, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. McMahan of Stamps, at 6 o'clock in the evening, November 21st.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of white peau de soie, with a semi-belle skirt. The scalloped neckline bodice was traced with appliques of imported Alencon lace medallions outlined and sprinkled with tiny seed pearls and crystal beads. Long sleeves came to points over the hands and traditional tiny covered buttons closed the sleeves and fastened the back bodice. The bride's elbow-length veil of silk illusion fell in misty

Turkey Has Spotlight on Thanksgiving

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The nation's grocery counters should present a picture of abundance this week as the Thanksgiving season gets under way.

Turkey continues to hold the spotlight. Prices are even more attractive than usual. Open large supermarket chain is selling the birds at 2 to 4 cents a pound below last year's level at its New York City area outlets.

Turkey at these stores was listed at 31 cents a pound for 18-24 lb. birds; 35 cents a pound for 10-18 lbs. sizes; and 39 cents a pound for smaller birds.

Ham, ribs of beef, chicken and pork roasts also rate attention at many meat counters.

Among vegetables, brussels sprouts, cucumbers, squash, Boston lettuce, onions, celery, radishes and turnip greens will be generally abundant in most areas of the country. Fresh cranberries will be most plentiful in the Midwest and Southeast.

Other attractively priced fruits include apples, emperor grapes, bananas, oranges, grapefruits and avocados.

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China said today its nuclear testing is a sovereign right and that Japanese Prime Minister Eisaku Satō has no right to protest.

Red China's official Peking People's Daily said "China has every right to strengthen its defenses, so long as the U.S. nuclear threat persists. China will never be a party to the partial nuclear test ban treaty."

The paper recalled that Japan once invaded China and said that if war breaks out again "Japan, as an American nuclear base, will bear the brunt and be inevitably involved in a nuclear holocaust."

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP) — Freezing temperatures and snowdrifts accounted for 11 deaths in various parts of Turkey Monday.

PANMUNJOM, Korea (AP) — Communist North Korea charged today that four U.N. Command naval vessels intruded into its waters off Korea's east coast of 14 occasions between Nov. 16-23.

The charges were made at the 194th meeting of the Military Armistice Commission.

The U.N. Command said the charge would be investigated. But U.S. Rear Adm. Paul P. Blackburn Jr., the senior U.N. member of the commission, said the locations given for the alleged violations indicated the ships were in international waters.

cautioned that military action outside of Viet Nam would not solve the situation any more than bare military action within South Viet Nam would if it were unaccompanied by other measures.

Officials noted that during the presidential election campaign, Johnson said it would serve little purpose to extend the war into North Viet Nam if South Viet Nam lacked an effective government.

The unstable conditions that have hampered South Viet Nam's efforts to carry on the struggle against the Communists were vividly in evidence as Taylor left Saigon, en route to Washington.

For the fourth day students rioted through the city, shouting denunciations of Premier Tran Van Huong and his month-old civilian government. The country's Buddhist hierarchy issued a declaration of opposition to the embattled regime.

Texas and Tide Picked to Win Games Thurs.

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — This is the week of double helpings in everything — even college football.

So for a final whirl along the edge of Upset Gulch while balancing the crystal ball on a denuded drumstick.

Thursday
Alabama over Auburn: Neither team has its ace quarterback, Joe Namath for Alabama and Jimmy Sidle of Auburn, in the best condition for this titanic finale. Alabama has the greater number of reserves plus the stingiest defense.

Texas over Texas A&M: Because Tommy Nobis and Ernie Koy play for Texas.

Tulsa over Wichita: Jerry Rhone rewrites the record book in passing.

Saturday
Navy over Army: An unprecedented sixth straight triumph for the sailors over the soldiers. All of Roger Staubach's Navy playmates have healed while Army quarterback Rollie Stichweh will have to operate behind a patched up line.

Notre Dame over Southern California: Michigan State clobbered Southern California and got clobbered by Notre Dame. The Irish finish the year unbeaten.

Georgia Tech over Georgia: A spot for an upset.

Bart Starr No Riverboat Gambler

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bart Starr is no riverboat gambler. The Green Bay quarterback usually follows the book right out the window. But he took a chance Sunday and won game 28-21 that Cleveland wanted so much.

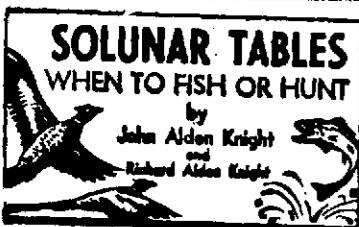

It was fourth and inches to go on the Packers' 44 with Cleveland leading 14-7. Instead of punting or sending Jim Taylor up the middle, Starr went for the pass and connected with Max McGee who ran to the Cleveland one. Taylor went over and Paul Hornung tied the score.

A few minutes later Jimmy Brown fumbled when hit and Green Bay recovered on the Cleveland 22. It was Tom Moore, Taylor and Moore again. Then Starr faked handoffs and rolled into the end zone.

For that fine performance, a week after he had been knocked out of action in San Francisco, Starr was given The Associated Press' recognition as player of the week in the National Football League.

Starr completed 13 of 18 passes for 131 yards with McGee his favorite target.

In 1879, the U. S. Weather Bureau was established in Little Rock.

Washington Leads in Pass Interceptions

NEW YORK (AP) — A year ago everybody was raving about the Chicago Bears' pass defense and the 36 interceptions turned in by George Halas' National Football League champions. Washington's porous deep defense had intercepted only 21 all season.

Bill McPeak's Redskins have turned these figures about in an amazing switch this season. The Skins have intercepted 29 passes, 11 more than Detroit and St. Louis, which are tied for second. And Chicago has intercepted only eight.

Paul Krause, the Iowa rookie who was Washington's No. 2 draft choice, leads the club and the NFL with 10 interceptions. Washington intercepted four Dallas passes Sunday for a total of 29, eight more than they had all last season.

Green Bay still leads the league in total defense with only 2,622 yards against them. The Packers are tops in pass defense and Dallas leads in rushing defense.

The Baltimore Colts, who already have clinched the Western Conference title, lead in total offense with 3,820 yards on a fine balance of 1,740 running and 2,080 passing. The Packers show the way in running offense with 1,777 yards and the Bears are first in passing with 2,430 yards.

Hope's Lady Cats opened their round ball season last night by downing Gurdon 55-48 in a fourth quarter battle.

The Ladies kept their record unblemished by turning a slim lead of 37-36 at the third quarter into their winning margin. Phyllis Martin gunned out twenty-eight points to lead for Hope, Shirley Smith had twenty-five, and Becky Lewis had two.

Regina Smith, Pat King, Carolyn Hamm, Brenda Underwood and Freida Middlebrooks saw action as guards.

The Junior Girls also came through on their first game, taking a 47-32 win.

The next scheduled action for the seniors will be Dec. 4 at Nashville.

Tosmah No Runner Up This Season

NEW YORK (AP) — Tosmah, a swift daughter of Tim Tam, made certain this year she wouldn't be a runner-up again as she won 10 of her 14 starts to take the 3-year-old filly title awarded by the Thoroughbred Racing Association.

As a 2-year-old Tosmah was second to Castle Forbes for juvenile filly honors, winning seven of her eight starts.

This year she not only whipped rivals of her sex and age but stepped out of her division to beat older fillies and mares and even beat colts like Roman Brother and Lt. Stevens in the Arlington Classic.

Her 1964 earnings of $305,285 brought her total purse winnings to $426,473, a rare bargain considering that Anthony Imbsi, owner of Briardale Farm, paid about $100,000 for the miss.

She was Faulkner 22 and Coleman 20. High point for Emmet was Faulkner with 11.

Trophy Goes to Notre Dame Player

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Notre Dame's football squad, thrilled that quarterback John Huarte won the Heisman Trophy as 1964's outstanding college player, high-spiritedly capped preparations today to meet Southern California.

Huarte, who didn't even play enough to win a monogram in 1963, is one of nine regulars who will be in their last game as seniors for the top-ranked Irish on the West Coast Saturday.

He was named the Hesman winner Tuesday in a close vote. He finished with 1,026 votes to edge Tulsa quarterback Jerry Rhome, who had 952, and Illinois linebacker Dick Butkus, who compiled 505.

Huarte is the sixth Notre Dame recipient of the award. The last Irish winner was Paul Hornung in 1956.

"It took a great deal of dedication on Huarte's part to earn this deserving award," said Coach Ara Parseghian.

Unbeaten Hogs Lead U. S. in TD Defense

NEW YORK (AP) — The college football season isn't over yet but there's no question about the 1964 team offense champions. They're Tulsa in total offense, passing and scoring and Syracuse in rushing.

On defense its another matter. Two new leaders turned up in the team statistics released today by the NCAA Service Bureau and there's a possibility of another change or two after the season-ending games this week.

Auburn took over the total defense lead this week with an average allowance of 155.8 yards per game. But the Tigers still have to hold Alabama, which has averaged 320.6 yards on offense this season, to a little more than half that allowance to be sure of the title. Runner-up Louisiana State, with a 166.7 average, could improve that figure in its hurricane-delayed game against Florida Dec. 5.

The other new leader is Arkansas in defense against scoring. The unbeaten Razorbacks made Texas Tech their fifth straight shutout victim and ended the season with an allowance of 5.7 points per game. Alabama is the only contender still active, but the Tide could keep the title in the Southeastern Conference by limiting Auburn to three points or less on Thursday.

Tulsa, gearing its offense to Jerry Rhome's passing and Howard Twilley's catching, has a total offense average of 477.3 yards, including 327.2 yards a game on passes. The Hurricanes have scored 40.3 points a game and need only 37 in their final against Wichita Thursday to become the first major team to average 40 points since Oklahoma in 1956.

Star Studied Field in Mexican Open

MEXICO CITY (AP) — A star-studded field of 150 golfers will tee off Thursday in the four-day Mexican Open over the tough Club de Golf Mexico course.

Canada's Al Balding is seeking to retain the crown he won last year with a record nine-under-par 279 over another and easier layout.

He admits he faces trouble this year against such luminaries as Ken Venturi, the U.S. Open champion; Bobby Nichols, the PGA champion, and others. Tony Lema, the Californian who won the British Open this year and the Mexican Open two unless it beats TCU. Then it still might wind up the sole occupant of the cellar in the event Texas A&M had upset Texas.

Texas is a 15-point favorite to beat A&M while Rice is a three-point choice over Baylor and Texas Christian is given one point in its battle with Texas Christian.

Hit three out of three last week. Look these over:

Texas-Texas A&M—A strong vote of Texas, which has more guns, knows how better to shoot them and has just as much spirit and desire for victory as the Aggies.

Baylor-Rice—Rice is the favorite but Baylor is the selection here.

Texas Christian-Southern Methodist—SMU might be willing to die for dear old Siwash but it would do no good anyway; Texas Christian by 10 points.

Editor The Star: Hope Country Club has received the following letter:

Hope Country Club, Hope, Arkansas USA

"About one year ago, maybe in Nov. 1963, Mr. Larry Bruce of the Hope Country Club made a 480 yard hole in one. This unbelievable news was reported on our local English paper early this year."

"Will you please let me know something more about the news for my Personal Interest? If available, any magazine, paper cuttings, etc., please be sent to me."

"In return I am glad to send any magazine or anything else you are interested in. I am a young Sunday golfer and very keen to know such story as Mr. Bruce's hole-in-one. Thanking you in anticipation."

Yours Sincerely,
H. Miyake
Eetagayaku,
Tokyo, Japan

(Editor's Note: The Star reported in its Nov. 13, 1963 issue the following: Country Club Pro Ed Creasy Sr. reports an almost impossible golf shot made last Saturday by Larry Bruce, one of Hope's better young golfers. It occurred on the 480 yard 5th hole which doglegs to the right. Instead of shooting for the knee, Larry drove it over the trees, (the hole can't be seen from the tee) and made the hole-in-one on the par five hole. The shot, the way Larry did it, figures around 400 yards. Witnesses were Albert Boswell and Denzil Ross. This is the 4th hole-in-one for Larry and the longest.)

Distribution Plan to Be Explained

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A. W. Ford, state education commissioner, promised Monday that a controversial plan for redistributing state aid to public schools will be fully explained.

The plan was devised by the Educational Research Services, headed by Dr. Francis G. Cornell of White Plains, N.Y.

Ford said the Cornell plan would be explained to the governor, educators, legislators and the public.

He said whatever action, if any, is taken on the recommended formula by the 1965 General Assembly, is the responsibility of the legislature.

The Little Rock School District school superintendent, Floyd W. Parsons, has told teachers the new formula would destroy the initiative of many communities and the teaching profession as well. He said teachers in Little Rock would lose several hundred dollars each in salary.

The proposal would change the formula for distributing Minimum Foundation Program funds to the schools. It would be based on assessed valuation, rather than on the "ability-to-pay" formula, which takes in several economic factors.

Who Steals My Name . . .

By Clay Richards

The Story: Blake Morgan is again trying to locate Richard Emery through girl friends. He is questioning a dancer named Johnson but that he had informed Indonesian President Sukarno of his intention to leave.

Jones has been ambassador to Jakarta since February 1958. He is a close friend of Sukarno.

Ducky Drake.

XV

A wariness crept into her eyes and I knew that she recognized the name.

"You a cop?"

I shook my head. "I want to find Richard Emery. He was sitting out there tonight just across the runway from me. But he left while I was watching you."

"I'm glad to hear that," she said. "I was beginning to think I'd lost my touch."

"I thought," I went on, "that you might tell me where Richard Emery is staying in Chicago."

"Try the YMCA. If he could leave in the middle of my act that's probably where you'll find him."

"You won't tell me?"

"I can't tell you things I don't know." She finished her drink in one gulp. "Is that all of your conversation? I have to rest up for the next show."

I stood up. "Okay. Thank you for seeing me." I headed for the door.

"Wait a minute."

I stopped and looked back at her.

"What did you say your name was?"

"Blake Morgan."

"Blake Morgan." She repeated my name softly. "It's a nice name. I'll remember it." She stood up and walked over to her dressing table. She pretended to be examining her face in the mirror, but she was actually watching me. Finally she turned around and smiled at me.

"Thanks," I said. "Goodbye, Miss Drake."

"Call me Ducky, if you like."

I winced. "Don't you have a legitimate first name?"

"Sure, Its Elena."

"Okay, Elena," I said. Thanks again.

"Why don't you come back sometime—when you're not looking for a man?"

"Maybe I will." I opened the door.

I went out and left the club. I stood out front on the wide walk, thinking it over. I had certainly goofed it. I'd had Emery right under my hand and had lost him because I been watching a girl shake her hips.

Well, Elena Ducky Drake was still my best bet. I went back into the club and stood at the end of the bar, ordered a bourbon and water. When the bartender brought it, I put money on the bar.

"What time's the last show?" I asked.

"The three stars do their last appearances at two o'clock."

I glanced at my watch. Ducky Drake would be doing her last show in half an hour. I sipped my drink slowly. When the first of the three stars appeared, I left my drink and went outside again.

I walked up the block past three empty cabs and chose one behind them. I opened the door and climbed in.

"Don't pull away from the curb," I told the driver. "You can turn the meter on, but wait a while."

"What's up, buddy?"

"Postal Inspector," I said. I took and out identification and held it where he could see it.

"I want to follow someone."

He flipped the flag on the meter. "Okay."

I leaned back in the seat and watched the club.

It must have been almost an hour before she came into sight, walking from the rear of the building. She was alone. And I hadn't seen any sight of Emery.

Maybe they were meeting at her apartment or wherever he was staying.

"That's the one," I told the driver as she opened the door of a cab ahead of us. "Follow the cab, but don't let him get wise to it."

"Okay," he said. He started the motor and pulled out behind the other cab. "You always tail something like that, buddy? Nice work."

I didn't bother to answer him.

We followed the cab to a residential section of Chicago. It stopped in front of an modern apartment building. My driver stopped about a block behind it.

As soon as I saw she was getting out of her cab, I paid off my driver and opened the door.

"Sure you don't need some help, buddy?" the driver asked.

"I think I can manage," I told him.

I walked up the street across from the building. As I drew even with it, I saw the lights go on in a third-floor apartment. I stopped and looked up. I saw her pass by the window briefly.

I walked across the street and into the lobby of the building. I looked at the mailboxes. It was there. Elena Drake, Apt. 3-C. I returned to the other side of the street, found a shadowy spot beside a building and waited.

XVI

No one entered or left the building during the next hour. Then the lights went out on the third floor. Of course, there was always the possibility that he'd been waiting in the apartment for her when she arrived home, but I doubted it. It was a fair assumption that they were not seeing each other this night.

I stepped out of the shadows and looked down the street. I didn't see any cruising cabs, but there was one parked about two blocks away. I stepped out into the street where the light would hit me, waved my arm and whistled. The taxi started up, the street toward me.

I stepped back on the curb and waited. Then suddenly realized that the cab showed no signs of slowing down to pick me up. Instead it seemed that it was increasing its speed.

I was annoyed and waved my arm more vigorously. Then, just before it reached me, I suddenly caught a glimpse of someone sitting in the back seat. He was leaning against the open window and the light glinted on a piece of metal in his hand.

There was a brief moment, while I stood there before I realized that the metal was a gun.

The cab was almost even with me and wasn't slowing down. I threw myself to the sidewalk, rolling toward the cab as I hit.

As though from a distance, I heard the sound of two rapid shots.

Then the cab was past me and I was rolling in the street. I came to rest on my belly, looking toward the cab. It was speeding up and I could see a dim face peering through the rear window. I tugged my gun from its holster and carefully propped my elbow on the street. I pulled the trigger. I missed and time was running out. I steadied the gun more carefully and stroked the trigger with loving care.

The cab lurched and tilted to one side. I'd gotten the tire. It swerved, the tires screeched

Flying Speed Cause of State Crashes

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Board said Sunday that failure to maintain flying speed was the probable cause of three fatal private plane crashes this year in Arkansas.

The board traced crashes in other states to such things as pilot misjudgment, unqualified pilots, inadequate maintenance and alcohol.

The board listed these Arkansas accidents, all occurring during crop spraying or other agricultural activities.

May 23, at Stuttgart; Roger G. Bower, 20, of Almyra, Ark., failed to maintain flying speed during a turn following a swath run.

May 27, near Humphrey; Wil-mot Gary Quillman, 29, of Stuttgart failed to maintain flying speed during a turn.

June 6, near Pocahontas; Billy F. Taylor, 34, of Humboldt, Tenn., failed to maintain flying speed during pull up from a run.

In 1960 there were no automobiles in Arkansas, but by 1962, there were four in Little Rock.

Bodies Taken From Plane Wreckage

By GERALD MILLER

ROME (AP)—Work crews were recovering bodies today from the wreckage of the Trans World Airlines jet in which 45 died at Rome's Fiumicino Airport.

At least 26 Americans were among the dead; at least 14 survived.

The plane never got off the ground Monday as it prepared to take off for Athens and Cairo on the windup of a flight from Kansas City, Chicago, New York, Paris and Milan.

The giant Boeing 707, carrying 73 persons, faltered as it sped down the runway, overran its takeoff point, hit a road grader parked on a cross runway under construction and plowed to a stop with flames and explosions ripping the fuselage and wings.

Twenty-eight of those aboard—most of them Americans and many of them TWA personnel—survived.

Some were hurled 80 yards by explosions that turned the four-jet airliner into a mass of burning-twisted metal wreckage.

Seven of the survivors were in grave condition.

Some escaped without a scratch.

As the plane ground to a halt with flame enveloping it, doors opened and passengers jumped to the ground.

It was the first disaster at the seaside airport since it went into operation five years ago.

There were broken, moaning survivors lying on the ground and blackened bodies visible in the wreckage through flames and smoke. The metal was so hot work crews could not get into the wreckage until this morning.

Several families perished.

Among the victims was an American Roman Catholic bishop, Edward C. Daly, 70, of Des Moines, Iowa. An aide, Msgr. Joseph Sondag, 43, of Atlantic City, died with him. They had been in Rome for the Vatican Ecumenical Council, which recessed Saturday, and were on their way to the Holy Land.

One of the pilots, John Churchill of Richfield, Conn., went from hospital to hospital, searching for his wife, who had been a passenger. She was dead.

Of the 45 dead, 37 were passengers and 8 were crew members. Of the 28 survivors, there were 19 passengers and 9 crew members.

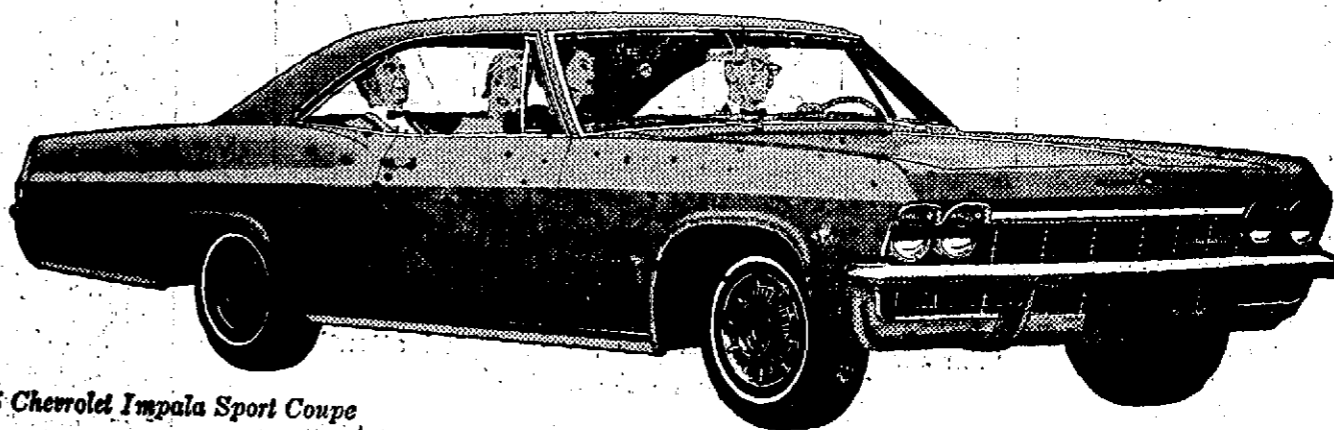

Italian authorities ordered an investigation. Witnesses said one of the engines had started to burn as the plane moved down the runway.

The weather was sunny and clear and TWA officials said there was no weight problem. Investigators said there was no suspicion of any sabotage.
